

The 25th Annual Conference of the International Association for the Study of Dreams

Tuesday July 8
through Saturday July 12, 2008

at the Hôtel Auberge Universel Montréal

See IASD web site for more information and on-line registration: www.asdreams.org/2008

Explore the meanings and mysteries of dreams and dreaming with world famous authors, psychotherapists, psychoanalysts, artists, educators and researchers from all over the globe. This year the conference features both English language and French language tracks to satisfy the needs of attendees. Join us for 4½ days of workshops, lectures, exhibits, and events examining dreaming and dreamwork as presented through traditional and innovative theories and therapies, personal study, scientific research, cultural and spiritual traditions, extraordinary and PSI related dream phenomenon, and the arts. Over 150 workshops and events on all aspects of dreaming are planned, with topics and events of interest to the general public as well as professionals. Special events include an opening theatrical event and reception, three world-renowned keynote speakers, two dream art-inspired exhibits, a dream telepathy contest, a dream hike, a botanical garden experience, and the ever-popular closing costume Dream Ball.

Venue

The conference will be held at the Hôtel Auberge Universel Montréal located right next door to the Olympic Stadium and Village, The Auberge Universel is also right across the street from Montreal's beautiful Botanical Gardens. This location really captures the feeling of Montreal. It is a five-minute subway ride to Downtown, and Old Montreal's cobble toned streets and harbor.

Keynotes

Guy Corneau, Ph.D., is a Montrealer. He titled his Keynote address, "Derams of Meaning: A Personal Experience." He describes, "All my life long I've searched the meaning of dreams and finally found out that dreams give meaning to our lives. I plan to devote this lecture to sickness and dreams that come along with it, giving meaning to the sickness and to the treatments when, sometimes, there don't seem to be any. Every sickness of the body is a soul sickness as well. The link between the psyche and the matter is weakened and the suffering body makes it clear. To find meaning in our dreams is not always an easy task. Dreams are helpful when attempting to understand what was constellated at the psychic level that has sunk into the body. Guy Corneau is a Jungian analyst, trained at the Jung Institute in Zurich. He is an international author of five best-selling books including, Absent Fathers, Lost Sons: The Search for Masculine Identity; and Lessons In Love: The Transformation of Spirit Through Intimacy. IASD welcomes and thanks the C. G. Jung Society for co-sponsoring Guy Corneau's keynote.

Milton Kramer, MD, The Dream Experience: A Systematic Exploration, based on his book of the same name, Dr. Kramer's discussion will show that dreams reflect psychological differences, are orderly not random, and can be searched for meaning from many points of view. The many functions that have been posited for dreaming and the biological concomitants for the dream experience will be described. Milton Kramer is currently Visiting Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the College of Medicine, University of Illinois in Chicago. Montreal's own Tore Nielsen, Ph.D., will deliver his presentation titled Normal and pathological dreaming: Current research from the Montreal Dream & Nightmare Laboratory. He will be speaking about the latest research findings from his dream laboratory dealing with both normal and disturbed dreaming. Some of these studies include: the effects of virtual reality exposure on dreaming; tests of an emotion-regulation function of dreaming; the epidemiology of bad dreams in preschoolers; the pathophysiology of nightmares in adults; and the Baby-in-Bed (BIB) nightmares of new mothers. Tore Nielsen, Ph.D., is a Full Professor in the Department of Psychiatry, Université de Montreal, Director of the Dream & Nightmare Laboratory at the Sacré-Coeur Hospital Research Center, and a Research Professor of the Quebec Mental Health Research Fund.

Opening Event

Marking the 25th anniversary of IASD, we will open the conference with a multi-media presentation that traces one night of sleep titled The Art and Science of Dreaming: — from Hypnagogia to Hypnopompia (i.e., from the onset of sleep to wakefulness). The presentation will incorporate scientific discoveries by employing visual imagery, video, and poetic live appearances. The work of many IASD members will be intertwined in the program, which will provide a prospect for viewing progress of the past quarter century and a portrait of current issues in dream studies.

These lead off presenters are Fariba Bogzaran, Ph.D., Founding Director of the Dream Studies Program at John F. Kennedy University in Berkeley California, and Daniel Deslauriers, Ph.D., Professor of the East-West Psychology Program at the California Institute of Integral Studies in San Francisco.

2008 Conference Events

Over 150 workshops and events on all aspects of dreaming are planned, with topics and events of interest to the general public as well as professionals. Special events include: the Friday evening opening event and reception; evening receptions each day; two Dream Art Exhibitions; a Dream Telepathy Contest Wednesday evening; a Botanical Gardens tour and a Dream Hike on Thursday afternoon; and on Saturday evening the ever popular closing costume Dream Ball.

This year we will also feature an exciting event new to our conferences, The 2008 Dream Expert Auction where each winning bidder will receive personal time with the dream expert they win along with an individualized gift package. The proceeds will support the IASD mission to further dream research and broaden public awareness of the benefit of dreams. Please check our web site for details, and if you wish to contribute to this event please contact annefrey@comcast.net

sessions for psychologists, M.F.T. therapists, social workers, and other health professionals. The International Association for the Study of Dreams (IASD) is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. IASD maintains responsibility for this program and its content.

Dream Art Exhibits There will be two exhibits of dream-inspired art that will be displayed. One is at Gallery Art Neuf from July 2 through to the end of August. The second is at the Hôtel Auberge Universel, July 8 thru 12, with a reception on Thursday, July 10 for conference attendees. Check the IASD web site for details on how to submit entries.

http://www.asdreams.org/2008/idx\_art.htm or contact Kim Vergil at okvergil@videotron.ca to be added to a mailing list and receive entry materials when available. The deadline for art entries is April 1, 2008

2008 Nancy Richter Brzeski Dream Art Awards Thanks to the generous ongoing support of Nancy Richter Brzeski, awards will be granted to artists chosen from among those whose work is accepted for the shows. Full details will be available on the IASD web site.

About the International Association for the Study of Dreams

The IASD is a nonprofit, international, multidisciplinary organization dedicated to the pure and applied investigation of dreams and dreaming. Its purpose is to promote an awareness and appreciation of dreams in both professional and public arenas; to encourage research into the nature, function, and significance of dreaming; to advance the application of the study of dreams; and to provide a forum for the eclectic and interdisciplinary exchange of ideas and information. IASD is open to anyone who studies, explores, or works with dreams. Membership represents about 30 countries and people from all disciplines including: psychology, psychiatry, social work, education at all levels, religious studies, anthropology, medicine, the expressive and performing arts, literature, philosophy, humanities and business. Membership benefits include the professional journal Dreaming and the magazine Dream Time, discounts to conferences, plus many online benefits. For information about the organization or how to become a member please go to www.asdreams.org

IASD Ethical Policies

Participants and presenters agree to follow IASD's Ethics Statement and Dreamwork Ethics Statement which are posted on our web site and will appear in the conference program. Our ethical policy emphasizes respect, confidentiality, and sensitivity to individual and cultural differences. Full details are available on our web site. <http://www.asdreams.org>
